MEMPHIS APPEAL.

A WORKING MEN'S PARTY.

We were called upon, yesterday, by a colored citizen who has never affiliated with Radicalism, and has been earnestly anxious to release his colored friends from their slavish bondage to a party that seeks and is accomplishing their ruin, with the request to publish for the general information of the colored people, the resolution adopted at a meeting of colored citizens held on the 29th of May, and we are assured that the power of the leagues is in vain exerted to control and prevent the assertion of their true freedom by the colored people of Memphis, who are not only restive under the constraint in which they are held, but are breaking away from the network spread around them to direct and govern their suffrages. They are forming a Working Men's Party, and consider themselves entirely free from any previous obligations which they are conscious were obtained by fraud:

We, the undersigned, colored citizens of Memphis, do solemnly pledge ourselves that we will not support any candidate who is not in favor of the Working Men's Party. We have heretofore seen that the party now in power will not and don't do justice by the working man.

GRANT PERE LOQUITUR.

The venerable sire of the Radical candidate for the Presidency has been making a speech at Mineral Point, Wis., where he was on the 26 h of last month. Whether he has commenced the canvass thus early, with the expectation of getting around the circle, before November, we are not prepared to say. It is evident his tongue is not so tired as the veritable "Lysse's," and will wag at both ends, as will appear from the following correspondence of the Cincinnati Enquirer. It is dated May 27th:

On last evening's train Gen. Grant's father arrived here at this city, and when it was known, "and such things are generally known in a very short time," the leading Radicals of the city came in, and were introduced to him, and they were making a great fuss over him. At last the conversation turned upon politics, and Gen. Grant's father said: "Gentlemen, there never was such a nomination made as the one the Radicals have made in nominating my son as President, and Colfax is a very good man for the position of Vice President." He said he was glad that Ben Wade was not put in as Vice, for he had not a bit of sense, and talked too much, and would have been the means of the Radical ticket losing at least a hundred thousand votes in Ohio—don't believe in letting negroes vote; says it is too much like trying to make them equal to the whites, and said the only reason he thought they ought to have been freed for, was financially and politically, not because they were not in their place, he thought the only place they were fit were as slaves, for they are not able to take care of themselves, and he told a story to illustrate the fact. Said the only way they would work and only way to treat them was by using the whip freely. He thinks the people will be astounded at giving the negro his freedom, he says Gen. Palmer made a fool of himself at the Convention in his speech. He don't think much of Palmer or the platform. He said he advised them to leave nigger out of the platform, for he told them if they did not they would be beat; and said one of the most disgusting things he ever witnessed was the nigger delegates at the Convention at Chicago. If he had his way he would have kicked them out. He said never—no, never—would he be willing for niggers to vote; he thinks the more they are educated the worse it is for them, and says he don't believe in educating them. He don't believe in them voting in the South or any place else. They have no civil rights at all; this country was made to be ruled by white men and not niggers; thinks the Freedmen's Bureau the greatest swindle the country ever saw. He said he had seen the time when he had nothing to eat, and the United States did not feed him, but he had to work or starve. And as long as they indulged the nigger in idleness the longer they would have to; and said if he had ten cents and it would educate a nigger, he would throw it in the fire before they should have it; says he thinks it will beat the General, and will be glad if he is defeated.

The Rads kept putting in once in a while, but the old gentleman would tell them he knew what he was talking about it. He says they trotted him out on the front of the platform at the Convention to show him off, and he knew how matters were. Before he was done talking every one of the Rads had left, and the old gentleman was talking to Democrats.

The fact is, what is bred in the bone must come out of the flesh, and in these plain sayings of the father, the opinions, underlying all others, of the son, may be understood, just as the "horse talk" of the lad, as dilated upon in the biography, has kept pace with the maturing years of Grant, the reticent, as contradistinguished from Grant, the loquacious.

Delegates to the State Democratic Convention.

We consider it our duty to announce that it was the wish of the meeting held on Monday evening last, that all those citizens of Shelby county who could make it convenient to go, and wished to co-operate with the Democratic party in in opposition to Radicalism, should consider themselves entitled to all the privileges and powers of delegates, as though individually named. It was desirable to have as many delegates as could give their time to the country on this important mission, as the Convention itself would determine the ratio of representation when if shall assemble. The Convention will be numerously attended, and it is proper that the county of Shelby should bear her full part in point of numbers and ability.

Oregon Speaks.

The Democracy have elected their Representatives in Congress, by more than 1000 majority. The Legislature is Democratic, and Senator Williams will be succeeded by a Democrat. This is the first gun. Will Radicalism haul to?

—Senator Sherman in voting for the conviction, after declaring that no gentleman would occupy the position Stanton afterwards accepted, placed himself next in rank to Stanton.

—A mongrel paper says that Stanton's retirement from the War Office is without a parallel. Of course, for he was the only one to be found mean enough to hold on after his absence was required.

—A man named Wheaton hanged himself at Mansfield, Ohio, on Monday.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Williams introduced a bill concerning law claims in Arkansas, which was referred.

Sherman called up the bill relating to United States notes and the substitute of coin, providing that any contract hereinafter made specifically payable in coin shall be legal tended and valid, and may be enforced according to its terms, notwithstanding anything in the bill in relation to United States notes.

The Arkansas bill came up from the House, and the Senate insisted on its amendment, and ordered a committee of conference.

Trumbull called up the House bill to admit North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia and Alabama. He explained that in the substitute the committee had stricken out Alabama, and by a mistake Florida was inserted, contrary to the opinion of a majority of the committee, though he personally had favored inserting it. He stated the number of votes cast for and against the Constitution in the States enumerated, and in the matter of Florida, read a communication from the General of the army, inclosing a telegram from General Meade, dated Atlanta, June 3, 1868, which states that the majority in favor of the Constitution in Florida is 5050. Trumbull then proceeded to offer the substitute of the committee, which has already been published.

Wilson moved to amend by inserting Alabama.

After a long debate, and without action on the bill, the Senate went into executive session and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE.

Mr. Lawrence, of Ohio, presented a resolution of the Ohio Legislature, relative to a survey of the Miami and Erie canal, for the purpose of enlarging it to the capacity of a ship canal, which was referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Mr. Blaine, from the Conference committee on the army appropriation bill, made a report, which was agreed to.

The House then proceeded to the business of the morning hour, the same being the consideration of reports of a private character, including a joint resolution to advance Capt. Thos. N. Stevens twenty-one numbers on the list of captains in the navy, for services during the war, which was passed, as was also one for the restoration of Capt. James S. Armstrong, from the retired list to the active list of the navy.

Jones introduced a resolution to erect a United States courtroom, postoffice, etc., in Covington, Ky., which was referred.

Perham, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, reported a bill relating to pensions. The first section construes the existing pension laws so as to give the precedence to relatives of deceased persons having neither widow nor child, in the following order: First, mothers; second, fathers; third, orphans, brothers and sisters, who shall be pensioned jointly, if there be more than one. The other sections apply to matters of detail. After some discussion and an explanation the bill passed.

The House then went into a Committee of the Whole on the tax bill. The sixth section, which gives the appointment of all revenue officers to the Commissioner, being under consideration, a large number of amendments were offered, and after considerable discussion were all rejected or withdrawn, and the question was taken on Garfield's motion to strike out the section, which was carried by 64 to 45. The seventh section was also stricken out and the eighth considered. It regulates the duties of internal revenue storekeepers. Several amendments of detail were offered by Schenck and agreed to.

Logan moved to strike out the whole section because it provided for bonded warehouses, and if the whisky tax was reduced, to be collected at the still—the only way in which the tax could be collected—then there would be no use of having bonded warehouses.

Schenck opposed and Logan supported the proposition.

The House then took a recess.

In evening session Mr. Judd withdrew his motion to strike out the eighth section, with the understanding that the section be reserved for amendment in view of future action on the whisky tax. No amendment will be made to the following sections. The fourteenth section was, on motion of Mr. Schenck, struck out. Several amendments of details were made to the sixteenth section.

Several amendments were offered to the sixteenth section, reducing the salaries of assessors, but were rejected.

Sections seventeen to twenty-one, inclusive, were passed over without amendment.

Jenckes moved a verbal amendment to the twenty-second section, when the Committee rose, and the Speaker presented a message from the President in regard to the trial of American citizens in Great Britain, and the House adjourned.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—A lengthy debate ensued in which Trumbull interrupted to make a report from the Committee of Conference on the Arkansas bill, saying it would have some influence in regard to the decision on this bill. He explained that the Committee recommend an agreement to the bill as passed by the House, with some slight verbal amendments in the preamble, and a further amendment as it passed the House. The bill provided as a fundamental condition, that change of the Constitution should be made depriving any citizen or class of citizens of the right of suffrage who are recognized in the Constitution. The Committee had added the provision, that the Constitution may be changed as to the time and place of residence, as the people think proper. Also as to the right of foreigners to vote so as to acquire citizenship hereafter if they chose.

After the report had been read, Drake called attention to the omission, by a clerical error, of the word "all" before the words "the inhabitants," which had been agreed upon by the Committee.

Trumbull withdrew the report for the purpose of correcting it, and the debate then continued.

Secretary Gorham was sworn in and the Senate proceeded with the consideration of the bill for the admission of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana and Florida.

The report of the Conference Committee on the Arkansas bill was then presented as corrected, and agreed to.

Fessenden moved to go into executive session, but withdrew the motion at the instance of Wilson, who made an unavailing effort to get up the bill to continue the Freedman's Bureau for one year from July next.

Wilson then renewed the motion to go into executive session.

Trumbull interrupted him to express the hope that the Senators would come here on Monday prepared to press the pending bill.

The Senate then went into executive session, and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE.

The House agreed to hold no evening sessions, and also agreed that a reception be extended to the Chinese embassy on Tuesday next at 11 o'clock, in the hall of the House.

A large number of bills from the Committee on Invalid Pensions were reported and passed.

The House then went into a Committee of the Whole on the tax bill, the question being on Jenckes' motion to amend the twenty second section by taking from the Assessor the right to add on penalties.

After some discussion the section was amended by striking out the word "penalties" and inserting in lieu of it the words "additional per cent. for refusal or neglect to make returns."

No amendments except in the matter of details, were offered to sections 23, 24, 25 and 26.

Progress was made without any amendments, save as to matters of detail, to any section including the 33d, when the Committee rose.

Beaman from the Committee of Conference on the Arkansas bill, made a report, and while voting on it the hour of 5 o'clock arrived, and the Speaker in accordance with a unanimous agreement previously had, declared the House adjourned.

LINKS FROM MEMORY'S CHAIN.

For the Sunday Appeal.]

Ten Years! how small and short the words; yet what a volume can be expressed therein! Joy, such as rarely comes but once in a life-time; and sorrow, bitter, heart-crushing sorrow, that wears away youth and makes us old far too soon.

Life is at best but an air-blown bubble, floating on the ocean's breast; one hour encircled by the rainbow of bright hopes, the next borne by the ebbing tide, it sinks between contending billows and, awhile unseen is borne along, a prisoner of hope and fear.

I stood lately, for the first time in several years, beneath a sturdy beech, on the old "school-house playing ground," whose gnarled and high projecting roots had many a rustic seat in the "long ago." There were names rudely carved, high as hand could reach, by merry boys and girls, who have since grown to men and women's estate.

Tears of mingled regret and sorrow came to my eyes unbidden as I beheld them; the thought involuntarily intruded itself, "are they happy now as then?"

I turned, and to the left, overhanging the small stream, rises a high mossy bluff, where through long hours we stayed building "castles in Spain," and vainly imagining we should never forget the dreams and impressions that we so fondly thought Time could never change. 'Twas there, I remember, a young friend told me the story of her love, and how faithfully I kept the secret! She was but a child then, but since has married the object of her early love.

Another fair friend had her lover, too, (one of the school boys), but ere he had arrived to the dignity of a coat, the shrill clarion notes of war sounded through the land, and he buckled on his knapsack and marched away.

"Hope was frail and passion fleeting,
'Tis often so;
Visions born of golden sunsets,
With the sunsets go."

When he returned she was already married.

High above the rest is the name of the dearest, best friend I ever had, but "the sparkling eye, the spirit's shrine, has shrouded its glory forever." She is gone to a purer, better world, where "the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest."

The visit to the old haunt of childhood has done me good, bringing to mind many dear mementoes of the past that have long lain "in the deep, still chambers of the heart."

The long shadows warned me to return home. I sighed as I turned to retrace my steps, and slowly repeated that sparkling dew-drop of Dow's:

"Day by day our sorrows leave us—
Leave us while new sor ows come,
Come like event g shadows lengthening,
Lengthening round our spirits home.
Day by day side fr ship's fl wers,
Flowers that flourish in the Past,
Pest on past, once bright and glowing,
Glowing once, but dimmed at last.
Day by day all ofdis tancy,
Fancy ever young and gay,
Gay a when young love was dreaming,
Dreaming day by day."

STELLA.

FAYETTE COUNTY, TENN.

Negro Congressman for the State at Large.

The Maryville Republican of the 20th, is in favor of a colored man for Representative in Congress for the State at large, and recommends Thos. J. White, of Columbia. The U. L. A. Council of Blount, adopted the following:

Resolved, That Maryville Council, U. L. A., pledge ourselves to use our influence for the nomination of a colored man for Congress for the State at large.

The Republican expresses its views as follows, and the white Radicals who are quarrelling about colored participation in memorials to the dead, may contemplate its truths at their earliest leisure:

Viewing this subject from a legal standpoint, we are compelled to acknowledge the superior claims of a colored man to represent Tennessee at large. It is by his vote that we are accorded the proud privilege of sending an additional member to Congress. It is by his vote, influence and loyalty that we are to-day basking in the sunshine of liberty, occupying high official positions, and free from the bitter persecution of our enemies. An argument is used to the effect that colored men are to-day eternally indebted to the loyal Legislature and the party for his elevation to political equality. We offer another one to the effect that were it not for the colored man, Republicanism would be an idle dream, the enemies of liberty in power, and all friends of Republicanism politically bound hand and foot.

For President of the United States,

ANDREW JOHNSON,

OF TENNESSEE.

Subject only to the decision of the National Democratic Conservative Convention.]

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

By direction of the Democratic Central Committee, a State Convention is called, to assemble at the city of Nashville, on the 9th day of June, 1868, for the purpose of appointing delegates to attend the National Democratic Convention, which will meet at the city of New York, on the 4th day of July next.

The people of the different counties throughout the State, are requested to hold County Conventions and appoint delegates to represent them in said State Convention.

All persons opposed to the policy of the Radical party are cordially invited to participate.

Democratic and Conservative newspapers of the State are requested to publish this call.

By order of the Central Committee,
THOS. R. JENNINGS, Chm'n.
L. D. WALKER, Sec'y.

THE JACOBIN PLATFORM.

As a general rule, nothing is less worthy of respect than a party platform; for it is rarely the case that it is not dictated by expediency and a crooked policy, that it is not fraudulent and deceptive, that it does not abound in false and hollow professions, assert in principle and theory what the party invariably contemns and disregards in practice, and suppress the real sentiments, principles and purposes of the men who announce it as their creed. Is that of the Jacobin party an honest exposition and frank statement of these? Do not their practices and purposes give it the lie? Ought it to commend them and their candidates to the public favour?

It ought to be examined without prejudice, and criticized with a fair frankness. Vague denunciations of it, and mere declamatory invectives will be, as they ought to be, as idle as intentional misrepresentations, or libellous rantings at the candidates who stand upon it. The platform speaks for itself. It is as follows:

PLATFORM.

The National Republican party of the United States, assembled in National Convention, in the city of Chicago, on the 20th day of May, 1868, make the following declaration of principles:

First—We congratulate the country on the assured success of the reconstruction policy of Congress, as evinced by the adoption in the majority of the States lately in rebellion of constitutions securing equal civil and religious rights to all; and it is the duty of the Government to sustain those institutions, and to prevent the people of those States from being remitted to a state of anarchy.

Second—The guarantee by Congress of equal suffrage to all loyal men at the South was demanded by every consideration of public safety, of gratitude, and of justice, and must be maintained, while the question of suffrage in all the loyal States properly belongs to the people of those States.

Third—We denounce all forms of repudiation as a national crime, and the national honor requires the payment of the public indebtedness in the utmost good faith to all creditors, at home and abroad, not only according to the letter, but the spirit of the laws under which it was contracted.

Fourth—It is due to the labor of the nation that taxation should be equalized and reduced as rapidly as the national faith will permit.

Fifth—The national debt, contracted, as it has been, for the preservation of the Union for all time to come, should be extended over a fair period for redemption; and it is the duty of Congress to reduce the rate of interest thereon whenever it can be honestly done.

Sixth—That the best policy to diminish our burden of debt is to so improve our credit that capitalists will seek to loan us money at lower rates of interest than we now pay, and must continue to pay so long as repudiation, partial or total, open or covert, is threatened or suspected.

Seventh—The Government of the United States should be administered with the strictest economy, and the corruptions which have been so shamefully nursed and fostered by Andrew Johnson call loudly for radical reform.

Eighth—We profoundly deplore the untimely and tragic death of Abraham Lincoln, and regret the accession of Andrew Johnson to the Presidency, who has acted treacherously to the people who elected him and the cause he was pledged to support; who has usurped high legislative and judicial functions; who has refused to execute the laws; who has used his high office to induce other officers to ignore and violate the laws; who employed his executive powers to render insecure the property, the peace, liberty, and life of the citizen; who has abused the pardoning power; who has denounced the National Legislature as unconstitutional; who has persistently and corruptly resisted, by every means in his power, every proper attempt at the reconstruction of the States lately in rebellion; who has perverted the public patronage into an engine of wholesale corruption, and who has been justly impeached for high crimes and misdemeanors, and properly pronounced guilty thereof by a vote of thirty-five Senators.

Ninth—The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers, that because a man is once a subject he is always so, must be resisted at every hazard by the United States, as a relic of the feudal times, not authorized by the law of nations, and at war with our national honor and independence. Naturalized citizens are entitled to be protected in all their rights of citizenship as though they were native born; and no citizen of the United States, native or naturalized, must be liable to arrest or imprisonment by any foreign power for acts done or words spoken in this country; and if so arrested and imprisoned, it is the duty of the Government to interfere in his behalf.

Tenth—O' all who were faithful in the trials of the late war, there were none entitled to more especial honor than the brave soldiers and seamen who endured the hardships of campaign and cruise, and imperilled their lives in the service of their country; the bounties and pensions provided by the laws for these brave defenders of the nation are obligations never to be forgotten; the widows and orphans of the gallant dead are the wards of the people—a sacred legacy bequeathed to the nation's protecting care.

Eleventh—Foreign emigration, which in the past has added so much to the wealth, development and resources, and increase of power, to this nation, the asylum of the oppressed of all nations, should be fostered and encouraged by a liberal and just policy.

Twelfth—This Convention declares itself in sympathy with all the oppressed people which are struggling for their rights.

Thirteenth—That we highly commend the spirit of magnanimity and forgiveness with which the men who have served in the rebellion—but who now frankly and honestly co-operate with us in restoring the peace of the country and reconstructing the Southern State governments upon the basis of impartial justice and equal rights—are received back into the communion of loyal people, and we favor the removal of the disqualification and restrictions imposed upon the late rebels in the same measure as their spirit of loyalty will direct, and as may be consistent with the safety of the loyal people.

Fourteenth—That we recognize the great principles laid down in the immortal Declaration of Independence as the foundation of Democratic government, and we hail with gladness every effort toward making these principles a living reality on every inch of American soil.

The first resolution states two palpable falsehoods. The reconstruction policy of Congress has not proven a success. It will probably result, not in the re-admission into the Union of the Southern States, but in the admission into it, on unequal terms, of new States under the old names, composed principally of negroes and Northern adventurers, with the white people of those States disfranchised. South Carolina, as admitted, would much more properly be named Haiti or Liberia, or Congo or Ashantee. It is the people that constitute the State, and the people of reconstructed South Carolina will be for the most part negroes. Disfranchised and denied protection, the white men of the State will be mere resident Foreigners, Subjects and Vassals, owing only that allegiance which binds the vanquished to submit to the law of force imposed by the conqueror. Success!—It is a success of the same kind as that of Alva in the Netherlands; as that of the High Priest and Pharisees when they had procured at the hands of Herod and Pilate, the Hebrew King and Roman Pro-Consul, the release of Barabbas and the crucifixion of Christ. It is the kind of success that is the worst of defeats, the success that ruins and destroys.

The success of the reconstruction policy of Congress is not assured by the adoption in the majority of the Southern States of Constitutions securing equal civil and political rights to all. No such Constitutions have been adopted anywhere. Nowhere have the people of the South, those who stood by the South, in the field or in council, in her great struggle, equal civil and political rights secured to them by these shameful Constitutions. By some of them they are expressly deprived of such rights: under others, held at sufferance, they may be taken away by the Legislature. Does even the Constitution of Tennessee "secure to all," equal civil and political rights? Does that of Arkansas, which disfranchises thousands of its citizens?

One wonders at it that any body of men should have been bold enough openly to publish statements so universally known, so easily proven, to be untrue. To be profitable, a lie ought not to be of easy refutation. It ought not to be known by all men to be what it is.

If the resolution had declared that, right or wrong, it was essential to the success of the Radical faction and to the maintenance of power in their hands, that the reconstruction impolicy should be persisted in, and that it was of very little consequence to that faction whether the ultimate result was to be beneficial or ruinous to the country, it would have told the plain truth. To assert that the Constitutions forced upon the Southern States are precisely the opposite of that which they are in reality, as a reason for insisting that they ought to be sustained, is by a malignant falsehood to endeavour to perpetrate an infamous wrong; and to urge this on the ground that otherwise those States will be "remitted to a state of anarchy" is a mere humbug. It is reconstruction that is anarchy.

At all events, this Resolution amply enough commits the Radical party and its nominees to the continuance of the reconstruction policy, justifies the unconstitutional legislation of Congress, and pledges the party to the imposition on the people of the South of Constitutions that do not express their will, but have been conceived in fraud and brought forth in iniquity.

The second resolution does so still more emphatically. It declares that negro suffrage in the South is right and shall be maintained, whatever the will of the white men of the South may now or hereafter be; but that in the Northern States Congress has no right to impose it on the people. It is for the people of the Northern States to decide whether they are willing to be associated in a Union with negro republics, when, by the Constitution, every negro citizen of a Southern State, removing to another one, is entitled to all the privileges and immunities of citizens of the several States; among which privileges and immunities, according to "the immortal Declaration of Independence," as construed by Thaddeus, King of the Scallawags and High Priest of Jacobinism, is the right to vote at all elections.

When negro Senators sit in Congress and their votes confirm treaties and reject appointments of white men of the North to office, and enact tariffs to plunder the West, Northwest and South for the benefit of pious and philanthropic New England; and when negro electors turn the scale of Presidential elections, and make Presidents and Vice Presidents against the will of Northern white men; and negro votes, sold in market overt by the score or the hundred, like eggs or herring, become the dagger that stabs at the prosperity of the free white communities of the North, the men of that region, whom Radicalism now misleads and deceives and lures to their ruin, may not think that this jockeying second resolution was, after all, so great a favour to them, although it permits them to determine whether they will have negro suffrage within their own borders. When the springs are poisoned, those who drink the waters that flow from them will not find that they give life or restore health. The negro, voting in the South, will hold in his paws the prosperity of the Northwest. If his votes prove its ruin, it will be a righteous retribution.

The third resolution is empty declamation. The Radical party is divided against itself, as to the payment of a large part of the bonds of the Government, in gold or in the currency which the labourer has to receive for his wages. The working-men's organization is assuming formidable proportions; and the gold vs. greenback question had to be shirked. New England, the great bondholder, wants the bonds paid in gold. The Northwest means that they shall be paid in greenbacks. Therefore the third resolution denounces all forms of repudiation, and declares that the public indebtedness must, to preserve the national honour, be paid in the utmost good faith, not only according to the letter but to the spirit of the laws under which it was contracted. Stevens declares that, according to both the letter and the spirit of these laws, the principal of the bonds in dispute is payable in currency. There is no doubt that the law is so. But the Convention did not dare to commit itself either way, and so declares what no one denies, that repudiation would be disreputable, and that what the law requires must be paid. General Grant is entirely satisfied with this. It is as clear as mud. In New England it is to mean gold: in the Northwest, greenbacks. Here, the Radicals may win votes by advocating one policy; there, by being zealous for another. In politics everything is fair, and it is allowable to speak in an unknown tongue and lie for the good of the Jacobin church.

The fourth resolution promises the labouring classes that taxation shall, "at a more convenient season," as Felix, we think, said to Paul, "be equalized and reduced as rapidly as the national faith will permit." Does this mean that the bonds are to be taxed? The Convention did not dare to say so. It sneaked away from that issue. Was taxation equalized when the manufacturers, not many weeks ago, were relieved of the burden of eighty millions of taxes, that the load upon the other classes of the community might be the heavier to the same amount? Is the Cotton-tax equal taxation? Is the Stamp-tax equal taxation? When will taxation be reduced, while the national debt continues to increase? How can it be reduced, while the expenditures of the Government continue to become more and more extravagant and the cormorants more voracious, and jobs and contracts more profitable?

The Republican party has been in power during four years of war and three years of peace. What abuse, by which the Treasury is plundered, have they corrected? In what branch of the public service have they made reforms? What salaries, except those of the poor and defenceless, have they reduced? What burthen, imposed on the people at large, have they lifted from their shoulders? What measure of retrenchment do they even now propose? Not one. On the contrary, their extravagance and the corruption of every branch of the Government increase continually, and the nation travels the road to bankruptcy with continually accelerated velocity. By levying unconstitutional and oppressive taxes, which eat into the capital of the country, the Government is barely enabled to pay its expenses, without materially increasing, and without any prospect of diminishing the public debt; and it squanders money like a spendthrift, where it ought to economise like a miser. The Radical party's professions of a purpose of retrenching expenditures and reducing taxation, are of the same kind as a rake's promises to reform; and it will never really repent until it is on its death-bed or the gallows.

Even the New York Times, an independent Republican Journal, says of the miserable piece of patch-work:

In certain other respects the platform soundsironically. Declarations in favor of a rapid reduction of taxation and the strictest economy in the administration of the Government are unassailable as abstract propositions. Every man not fed at the public expense will hold up both hands for them. But a Republican Convention in 1868 ought to have been able to present something more effective that promises. The party has been in power long enough to have gathered a rich store of performances. It should have been able to go before the country with a record of services rendered in regard both to retrenchment and taxation. The public purse has been for years altogether in its hands. It has had exclusive management of the appropriations and exclusive power over the forms and amount of taxation. How happens it, then, that in a platform intended to set forth its claims in continued confidence it has nothing better to offer than resolves in favor of forms which it has obstinately and culpably neglected! Why is it that no serious attempt has been made to enforce even moderate economy, and that, in consequence, the abolition of taxes must be followed by their reimposition, or by a large addition to the debt? These are weak spots in the party's record. They are a condemnation of its recent Congressional career, and a sorry exemplification of its fidelity and capacity in fiscal and financial affairs.

We postpone to another day the consideration of the residue of the Platform.

MAGAZI ES.

THE LAND WE LOVE.—This truly Southern magazine (for June) has been on our table for some time, and we did not notice it in our columns, because at some time we hoped a missing mail, or some unexpected event, or dullness in the daily routine of editorial life, would open a column or two to some of its peculiarly agreeable and interesting contents. It is punctual, and the editor conscientious. We regretted to see in a former number that the regular corps of poetical contributors had been engaged to furnish all of that sort of literary provant that is needed. This is a damper on aspiring genius, and, besides, it's a pretty sure generator of "tolerable verse." We would have the embargo raised, and more than a name acquired to ensure enshrinement in its pages. To be sure it is a terrible bore to be compelled to wade through pages of unutterable nonsense, but then, if unread,

"Full many a flower is born to blush unseen,
And waste its fragrance on the desert air."

This magazine is manly and elevated in its tone and character; does not pander to vitiated tastes, and deserves a hearty support from the Southern people.

SCOTT'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE.—The June number of this interesting periodical came to hand in due time. It maintains its character well, and inculcates pure morals, intellectual culture, and patriotism without the constant application of empty and high-sounding phrases, which degenerate into the merest balderdash of the demagogue. The blending of the useful and the agreeable is its main object, in which it is highly successful. The present number commences a well-written and interesting story entitled "Florence Southerland," by a new contributor, and "Godfrey Aylmer's History," by Leroy, is sad and pathetic. J. Russell Barrick has a clever essay on the "Useful and the Beautiful," once considered almost synonims, or one a dependency upon the other. There are some valuable papers in the present number, of which "Lieut" Maury's contribution to the Southern Educational Record may be designated. The terms are $4 per year, and place of publication Atlanta. The paper, if we must find fault, might be improved without detriment to the magazine.

—W. H. Russell, once a Colorado millionaire, has gone into bankruptcy. Liabilities, $1,250,000, with no assets.

REVIEW.

RANDOLPH HONOR.

In this work, the second from the charming pen of the young and gifted authoress of "Ingemisco," we have the rare combination of intellect with feeling, and almost wonder that with such keys to the human heart any writer of fiction should fail to reach the goal of her hopes. The critic will detect many crudities in style and plot, but the constant appeals made in its vivid delineations and faithful descriptions of Southern life and scenery often touch a chord of genuine sympathy in the heart of the reader. With the skill of a finished lapidary, the young authoress has strewn brilliant gems of thought throughout her pages, but wanting the experience of the jeweler, she sometimes leaves them in glittering confusion with their sequential order not clearly developed. This is especially true with her episodical stories, which add nothing except volume to the book. Indeed, creditable in themselves, they injure its unity and strikingly illustrate how fruitless an intrinsically good effort may be rendered by want of appropriateness.

Her style is, technically speaking, florid, and its force often broken by a multiplicity of adjectives—a fault common with young and imaginative authors, but in this instance somewhat justified by the passionate times and scenes depicted. The plot is simple, but in certain incidents too extravagant even for the privileges of fiction. It is gratifying, however, to see it used for the legitimate development of the characters rather than as a frame upon which to hang "quaint and curious volumes of forgotlove."

No where are we offended with a pedantic exposure of the base blue, nor are we constantly presented with new portraits of the Authoress.

The scenes, laid mainly in Virginia, South Carolina and Arkansas, will possess a local interest for many residing from a distance in those States, while the traveler, cannot fail to recognize the truth and justice of the descriptions as he passes the localities which this young writer beautifully pointed.

The story, well calculated to please those who believe in the divinity of Cupid, runs through the war for Southern independence, and checked by the changing fortunes of that eventful period, so full of interest to all, presents even in its romantic incidents the history of more than one fair Fadette or earnest-hearted Ruthom Erle. The authoress has woven into her narration two beautiful poems, each of which indicates more genius than the long story they are made to illustrate. She proves herself more a fact than a novelist, and we cannot help wishing that she had written more poetry and less prose. A.

—A speical to the St. Louis Republican dated Nashville, June 4, says:

"The Democratic State Convention which meets here next Tuesday, to appoint delegates to the National Democratic Convention, promises to be the largest gathering of the kind that has ever assembled in Tennessee. Delegates to the State Convention were appointed in the the different counties last Monday, and, as far as heard from, not a single county indicated a preference for Mr. Pendleton, while a number declared squarely for Mr. Johnson. The general feeling throughout the State appears to favor Johnson as the first choice. The greenback issue is looked upon, in Tennessee, as quite secondary in importance, while a Presidential candidate, who is likely to be available in battling against Radicalism and its Reconstruction policy, will receive the support of the Tennessee delegation. The indications now are that the delegation will not go pledged to support any particular candidate, but be left at liberty to vote for any man who can concentrate all the elements in opposition to Radicalism." From the general tone of the press, we are inclined to think the matter will not be left entirely to the delegates, but they will receive instructions. This would prevent any difficulty at New York.

Night Dispatches.

LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, June 8.—Alex. C. Bullett, for thirty years associated with the press of the country, died in this city yesterday and was buried to-day.

WASHINGTON.

WASHIGTON, June 6—Secretary of State to-night entertained Chinese Embassy. There were present all deplomatic corps and their families. Members of the Cabinet, Representatives and others, present. The garden was illuminated with Chinese lanterns, and a band of music played throughout the evening; another band was inside the house, altogether it was the most brilliant affair of the season.

One of the witnesses before the impeachment Managers recently stated about $22,000 had been collected to be paid to the Presidents counsel.

FOREIGN.

BERLIN, June 7.—Bismarck urges the adoption by the nations of Europe and America of treaties establishing a uniform international system of tonnage and capacity for shipping. He proposes the English system of measurement as the best basis for such system, but suggests it be modified by the application of the metrical principle. The North German Confederation is prepared to open negotiations with foreign governments on this subject.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 7.—The Emperor of Russia has issued an ukase setting free all persons of foreign birth now exiled to Siberia, and all natives, Russian and Poland, who are sentenced to less than twenty year's exile.

BRUSSELS, June 7.—Leonard's newspaper asserts that the opinion widely prevails in Paris that war will break out in Europe before the close of next autumn.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

CAIRO, June 7.—Passed—Minneola, Cincinnati; Great Republic, St. Louis to New Orleans; Julia, Vicksburg to St. Louis.

CINCINNATI, June 7.—River receding, with 17 feet in the channel.

EVANSVILLE, June 7.—The river is rising.

Passed—Norman, White river to Louisville; Dexter, New Orleans to Louisville; J. H. Groesbeck, Cincinnati to New Orleans; Cora S., Cincinnati to Arkansas river; R. E. Lee, Louisville to New Orleans.

LOUISVILLE, June 7.—Passed—Indiana, from New Orleans; Silver Moon, Memphis to Cincinnati.

The river is falling slowly, with seven feet in the canal.

ST. LOUIS, June 7.—Arrived—Marble City, from Memphis.

Departed—Mohawk and barges for New Orleans.

River stationary and falling slowly.

PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, June, 6—Board of trade Convention re-assembled at 10 o'clock. President Fraley in the chair.

On motion of Mr. Randolph of Chicago, it was unanimously agreed to meet December next at Cincinnati.

Mr. Blow from the committee appointed for purpose, reported resolutions which were considered and referred to the executive committee. The resolutions set forth that the interests of millions inhabiting, and to inhabit the Mississippi Valley require the adoption by the Federal government among other measures of improvement, by national or international appropriations, of all the outlets of the valley, and the removal of every obstacle to navigation upon the Mississippi and its tributaries. Such appropriations should only be limited in amount by the completion of several works between the Pacific and Atlantic oceans, and by canal or railroad across the Isthmus of Central America. Such works to be solely under national protection. Subvention steam lines for postal and commercial communication between New Orleans and the principal ports of Mexico, Central and North America.

Resolutions were also adopted in favor of a reduction of the whisky tax to not more than 50 cents per gallon.

The Executive Council was directed to apply to Congress for a charter for an association.

Mr. Hoffman, of Philadelphia, presented the following, which was referred the Executive Council:

WHEREAS, The National Commercial Convention which assembled in the city of Boston in February, 1868, passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That the central system of measurement of all products of the soil, is best adapted to the requirements of the trade of the country, and is in harmony with our decimal system, that it be recommended that on and after the first of August, 1868, each association represented in this association adopt the decimal system in the sale, storage and transportation of said products, and we recommend that on and after the 1st of August, 1868, two hundred pounds shall constitute a barrel of flour or meal, therefore,

Be it resolved, That the Executive Council be instructed to take immediate steps to carrying out the objects of said resolution.

Mr. Fosdick, of New Orleans, submitted resolutions, which were referred to the Executive Council, opposing the proposed charter to private individuals for the purpose of constructing a canal or channel through Pass Loutre, one of the outlets of the Mississippi river to the sea, and declaring that the Mississippi river, being a national highway, should always be kept free from its highest navigable point to its outlet, and no change of any nature, whatever, should ever be exacted from shipping navigating it; that the Senators and Representatives in Congress be respectfully requested to oppose the passage of any such a bill, and requested to urge the passage of a bill for the removal of all obstructions to navigation on the Mississippi and its tributaries; the work to be done under the direction of Government officers, and not as heretofore by contract.

Davis, of Toledo, presented a resolution recommending Congress to provide that National Banks shall not be allowed to sell any part of the gold received from the Government as interest on bonds pledged for their circulation, until the amount of its legal reserve is entirely made up in coin.

The Convention then adjourned sine die.

Andre L'Heritau, the editor of that leading French paper in America, the Courrier des Etats Unis, died in New York last Wednesday, of consumption. He was but twenty-eight years of age.

—The Harrison, Texas, Flag of the 28th ult. says: "We notice from our exchanges that the regular cotton caterpillars are making their appearance in the valleys of Red river and also in some portions of Southwestern Texas, and that they are rapidly destroying the young crop. If this should prove to be true, it is certainly very remarkable, as we have no recollection that they ever made their appearance so early in the season."

—The same paper says: "The reports from various portions of Harrison county are truly flattering in reference to the growing crop, and an abundant yield is expected; and should no misfortune overtake the farmer, immigrants desiring to move to Texas this fall will find a hearty welcome and a full supply of provisions. The health of the country has not been as good in the last twenty years as it is at present."

TO THE PATRONS OF THE APPEAL.

Subscribers are requested to report any irregularities in the delivery of the APPEAL at the Countingroom. Carriers will be furnished weekly with certificates authorizing them to collect subscriptions.

ED. J. MANSFORD, Superintendent of Circulation.

THANKS to Felix Cross, Esq., for the latest Southern papers.

QUERY.—A neighbor local speaks of "turreted towers." What sort of towers are they?

LOST.—A small nugget of native gold ore. It was in the shape of a leaf, and had been worn as a bosom pin. Having become detached from the pin, it was lost some time during Friday. A reward will be paid for it if left at the APPEAL Job Office.

PICNIC ON WEDNESDAY.—From the arrangements being made, a pleasant time may be anticipated by all who attend the St. Patrick picnic on next Wednesday, at the Ford Place, Chelsea. Tickets of admission, fifty cents.

LAUGHING GAS.—Dr. G. H. Hurd, on the corner of Third and Jefferson streets, administers that curious chemical, nitrous oxide, or laughing gas, and draws teeth with absolutely no pain. There is no danger in using this anaesthetic, a fact that can be said of no other agent used for the purpose.

THE BAFFLE FOR THE MARBLE VASES THIS EVENING.—The grand Raffle for the beautiful Marble Vases comes off tonight at Harry Weatherbee's well-known saloon, No. 31, Jefferson street. All the chances are taken and those interested are requested to be on hand at eight o'clock.

SERENADE.—The Casino band on Saturday night serenaded Mrs. Buttlughaus, the lady of our friend Col. Buttlughaus, on the anniversary of her birthday. The Colonel, although not informed of the occasion, was prepared to receive the serenades, and we venture to say there has not been a jollier party in Memphis in a long time than were there assembled.

RICH DEVELOPMENTS.—We understand that Col. Beaumont is preparing, and will issue this afternoon, a letter through the evening press, making an expose of Judge Waluran, and some other prominent officials. It is none of our fight, and we do not propose to make it so by "mixing in," but we must confess that we like the scrimmage that is progressing amazingly.

SERVICES YESTERDAY.—The churches yesterday were all well attended, the cloudiness of the day bringing out many who would otherwise have staid at home, excusing themselves on the plea of the heat of the sun. We understand that Dr. Ford, of the Tabernacle, repeated the eloquent discourse which he delivered last Sunday.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was close and warm, but the sky was overcast with clouds, so that those who were out during the middle of the day did not feel the heat so much as usual. The park was full during the afternoon of ladies and children, to whom, crowded as we are in the city, it is really a blessing. At writing the skies have every appearance of rain.

H. AEHLE, proprietor of the Court Exchange, corner of Second and Union street, has captured at the Hot Springs a huge Cuba Turtle, and sent the same in by telegraph, and it will be served up in Free Lunch on Monday morning, when friends, customers or "any other man" is invited to attend. The Lieut. Gen. John Hartie will preside at the bar and supply the best of liquors, beer, wine and cigars as usual.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Mr. Martin Gates, residing in Chelsea, on Saturday tried to fire off a double barreled shot gun, which had been loaded some time, but the caps being damp did not explode. He took the gun from his shoulder and was about to draw the rammer, when both barrels went off, the load tearing off the rim of his hat, and the flash burning his hand and face.

I. O. B. B.—The picnic of this order will take place as announced on Thursday at the James Park. The Beni Berith is a Hebrew charitable society, the ramifications of which extend over the whole of the United States. Their charities are not confined to the Jewish race, but are extended to suffering humanity, wherever it demands aid and comfort. The proceeds of the picnic go toward endowing an orphan asylum founded by the order.

PHOTOGRAPHIC.—We have taken occasion to refer several times to the beautiful photographic pictures made in the atelier of Mr. W. E. Craver, in Clarke's Marble block, but every visit that we pay him we find some new object of admiration and commendation. He makes, with equal elegance of finish and faithfulness to the original, all styles of sun pictures, from the minutest locket to the full-size portrait in oil on canvas. A visit to his gallery will be of interest to every one, and Mr. Craver invites the public generally to call up.

UNION FEMALE COLLEGE, AT OXFORD, MISS.—The following is the calendar for the remaining portion of this scholastic year of this excellent institution. The examination of the senior classes took place on the 14th and 15th ultimo. June 16th, examination of the other classes begins. June 15th, 16th and 17th, at 8 p.m., Commencement egercises, consisting of concert, reading of the U. L. O. Society Annual Magazine, graduating essays, and conferring degrees. Address by Rev. G. T. Steinback, of Columbus, Mississippi. Annual meeting of the Board of Trustees Tuesday, June 16th. Opening of next session, Thursday, September 10th. The classes will be organized during the first week of the new session.

Sacred Concert at St. Peter's.

The spacious church of St. Peter's was last night nearly filled with a large and appreciative audience, drawn together to listen to the repetition of the sacred concert, which was given there some weeks ago. The programme for the evening embraced some of the gems of sacred music, and had been arranged evidently by a master hand. About eight o'clock the deep and wondrous tones of the organ pealed through the arched aisles and caused the solid building to vibrate with the soul stirring notes of an organ duett, in which the instrument was managed by Messrs. Sabatzky and Winkel, with the skill for which these gentlemen have become noted in our Memphis community. "Il prezo o Padre Eterno" a trio by Cushing, sang by Mr. Rice, Miss Rice, and Prof. Jackowitz. Miss Rice's splendid alto was remarked in the opening solo to be somewhat hoarse—the effect of a cold and a sore throat—but as the piece progressed this hoarseness vanished and it became as clear as a bell.

The beautiful German hymn "Der Himmel hat eine Thraene geweint," (Heaven wept a tear) followed, and was sung by Mrs. Keller, with a violin obligato accompaniment and solo, by Prof. Hollenburg.

Throughout this difficult piece of music Mrs. Keller sustained herself with a marvelous evenness, singing the last stave with the same empressement as the opening one. Professor Hollenburg's violin solo was magnificent quite equaling the reputation that gentleman has so nobly won and borne among us.

This closed part first, and the interim between it and part second, was filled by an interesting lecture from Father Kelly on the subject of church music.

After the lecture, the "Madre Pietosa Virgine" of Verdi (a miserere from the opera Il Forza del destino) was given with a wonderful pathos, and delicacy by Mrs. Keller. Her rich soprano voice resounded through nave and chancel, and thrilled every hearer with a musical ecstacy, which was climaxed by the "Pity, oh Savior!" of Sabatzky.

A march from Der Prophet closed the evening's entertainment, and we fear not to risk the assertion that a more thoroughly artistic and elegant musical feast has never been set before the Memphis public.

Our thanks are due to Fathers Kelly and O'Brien for opportunities of itemizing, in cameris, not often enjoyed by locals.

POLICE ITEMS.

—Capt. Perry, strange as it may seem, was yesterday evening still alive, and his condition altered so much for the better that hopes are now entertained of his recovery.

—E. A. Cole, county special, yesterday arrested and lodged in the Adams street station two negroes, named Tom Williams and Joe Winn, charged with cow stealing.

—There were five arrests reported up to seven o'clock at the Adams street station, and six at the Causey.

—A man was found yesterday about midday, lying at the foot of Adams street, in almost a dying condition with cholera morbus. He was carried to Adams street station and thence sent to the hospital.

—Adam Dowdy, a negro, who violated the person of a white woman some two months ago, was yesterday arrested by Sergeant Brown, of the First District ponce station. Adam was armed with a double barreled shot gun, and on searching his house quite an amount of stolen plunder was recovered.

RECOVERED.—Our office was illuminated yesterday morning by the shining face of that light of medical science, "Dr." Tolles, who may very appropriately be called the dark lantern of therapeutics. He informed us that he was in possession of the meerschaum which had been lost by our chief—he having bought it last Saturday from another darkey, giving him the enormous price of one dollar and a half for it. Knowing the value of the pipe (not less than two hundred dollars), he thought there was some rascality in the matter, and took the precaution to take the name of the vender—something-or-other Ray, and when the "doctor" called on us he had a warrant for "Mr." Ray in his pocket. We hope that he may find him, and teach him next time that if he wants to steal anything not to steal it from an editor.

A USEFUL RECEIPT.—The fruit season has again returned, and with it that usual concomitant of the hot season and an excessive indulgence in its luxuries. The following receipt will be found a sovereign remedy in all cases of cholera morbus, griping pains or dysentery, and every family living in the country especially, should have it by them:

Put in a large pitcher two tablespoonsful of carbonate of soda and four of loaf sugar, pour on these a pint of hot water, when they are perfectly dissolved add half a pint of cold water, then put in a tablespoonful of pulverized Turkey rhubard or two ounces of the tincture, a teaspoonful of laudanum, eight drops of the oil of peppermint or enough of the tincture to give it a perceptible taste, and lastly, a pint of good French brandy. Bottle up carefully, and administer to the patient in doses equal to half a wine glass full three times a day, or as often as the bowels are moved.

GRAND OPERA TUESDAY NIGHT.—In our amusement column will be found the advertisement of the coming opera troupe. We announced some days since, and yesterday repeated the notice, that Manager Thompson had effected an engagement with Miss Isabel McCulloch and Signor Torriani's opera troupe to play two nights in Memphis. From every quarter wherever this combination has appeared, comes the same story to us through the press. Papers of all shades and complexions unite in singing praises to their excellence. Miss McCulloch is a Southern girl, whom Sherman's "march to the sea" beggared, and for that one reason alone she deserves the sympathy of all of us. Her voice is represented to be a most exquisite soprano, and cultivated to a fault.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

Weather was cloudy, with a pleasant breeze stirring. The river is falling with unabated celerity, and has declined altogether not less than thirteen feet. The Ohio is rising. The latest advices from that stream will be found in our telegraph columns. The upper Mississippi is still rising slowly, but no change has yet occurred at St. Louis. Thence to Cairo nine feet is reported. The Missouri is rising all the way down, but not rapidly. The Arkansas was about on a stand at last report. White river is falling.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The proprietors of the Milbrey have commenced putting a temporary pilot house on that boat preparatory to taking her to Paducah.

A knotty case has arisen within the past few days, which will give some work, no doubt, to our shrewd limbs of the law. The creditors of a merchant of this city have been trying to force him into bankruptcy. Armed with the proper papers an officer from Cincinnati proceeded to a point in Arkansas, where the aforesaid merchant has a store, and seized his stock, which was brought around on the last trip of the Liberty. The officer, fearing a replevin if the goods were landed here, had them put on board the Des Arc, lying on the opposite side of the river, at Hopefield, until he could get a Cincinnati boat to take them. The Memphis merchant, hearing of the whereabouts of his stock, had papers served upon Capt. Elliott, owning the Des Arc, enjoining him from letting the goods go out of his possession. They were carried off, however, in the night, and now Capt. Elliott is held responsible for them. Whether the fact that the notice was served on the Captain in this State while his boat was in Arkansas, or that the Des Arc was turned into a wharfboat without his consent, will change the face of matters or not has yet to be learned.

Mr. Stack Lee, clerk of the Natoma, arrived from Cincinnati on Saturday evening. The Natoma went upon the ways on Friday week, and will receive a most thorough repair before again resting upon the water. A new hull almost entire is being put to her, and when she again makes her appearance in these waters she will be a complete and perfect packet—one worthy of the trade in which she is to ply.

The Empire, Capt. Yerkes, passes up for Cincinnati on Thursday.

The Commercial, Capt. Ashford, with the the Messrs. Smither in the office leaves for White river to-morrow, making all way landings, carrying the U. S. mail and connecting with the cars for Little Rock.

The Minnesota, Capt. Miller, leaves to-morrow for Cairo and Cincinnati.

The City of Cairo is the regular Cairo and St. Louis packet to-day, leaving the wharf boat at 6 p.m. She connects with the boats of the Northern line, and with trains for North and East. Crane is master and Billy Bienker clerk.

The U. S. mail packet Gleaner, Capt. Harrison Blaisdell, will back out to-day for Fort Smith and all way points on the Arkansas. The Gleaner is one of the best packets in the Adams line, and being light draught will be sure to go through. Garrett Huls and Sam Wood are her popular clerks.

The Belle Lee passed down yesterday with a good trip. She left Louisville with very little freight, except 1000 bbls salt for the mouth of Red river, at sixty cents per barrel. It was all stored on the forecastle, and came near killing the boat, springing her butts badly. She had to lay up several hours to pump out and restow her freight.

Our cotemporary of the Avalanche, with fishing pole upon shoulder, might have been seen about daylight yesterday upon the landing, bunting transportation to Mound City. He returned about noon, minus pole, having been rolled from a dug out into the rapid current of the Mississippi. He got home, however, by dodging through alleys and cross streets to his hotel, after having illustrated the old adage of "a fisherman's luck."

The Des Arc made several trips to Mound City yesterday, giving pleasure seekers and those wishing fresh air ample time to visit that handsome little village and indulge in one of Captain Jackson's elegant dinners.

The tug Nettie Jones, Capt. John Ford, was busily engaged during the day carrying people up the Loosahatchie several miles, to where they could find a pleasant retreat under the wide-spreading trees which line the bank of this crooked little river. Manager Broom, under whose direction the excursion came off, conducted it in his usual masterly style. A moonlight excursion wound up the innocent amusements of the day, when all returned home feeling much refreshed, and ready to battle with the business of the coming week with renewed vigor.

We learn that the Frank Pargoud took freight at St. Louis for New Orleans at 12½c per hundred.

A man fell overboard from the tug Nettie Jones last night as she was backing out upon an excursion. He was rescued.

The Milbrey, we learn, will leave for the Ohio river to day. The Eau Claire left for Paducah yesterday.

The Pargoud, Great Republic, Olive Branch, Magenta and Alaska, are all due. The two former from below and the others from New Orleans.

The passengers on the steamer Anna were robbed on Thursday night at Nashville of $850 in cash, by thieves who entered their staterooms by means of an "out sider." The amounts taken varied from $20 to $110. One gentleman who left his room door unlocked escaped without loss, although he had $800 in his pocket.

The Postoffice Department is advised that by the first of August four steamers will be running from San Francisco to Japan and China, and be ready to carry the mails regularly every Saturday, as received by the Pacific railroad when completed.

Our Latest Improved
NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE,
GROVESTEEN & CO.,
499 Broadway, N. Y.,
THESE instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.
It has always been our policy, during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.
The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness, does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpracticed and to the most cultivated ear.
They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre serpentine Base richly moulded, and Each Instrument is fully warranted for five years.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE NATIONAL
COMPANY.
A new enterprise, to be known as the National Telegraph Company, has been organized with valuable franchises conferred by a recent act of Congress for the purpose of establishing Trunk Lines of Telegraphs on all the principal railroads and mail routes in the United States. The stock is to be issued upon the same principle as that of the Merchant's Union Express Company, which recently commenced operations. The design is to interest the entire business community in the enterprise. This is done, not so much to dispose of the stock as it is to secure the business of the country through which the lines pass.
The Capital is to be
$10,000,000,
In 100,000 Shares, of the par value of
$100 PER SHARE,
But the actual amount to be paid in cash is
$35 Per Share,
And this amount is to be paid as follows: One per cent. of the par at the time of subscribing, and no more, until the entire capital has been subscribed, and then on calls to be made by the Board of Directors; instalments not to exceed five per cent per month When thirty-five per cent. of the par value of the shares has been paid, certificates of stock will be issued This will give the company a paid up
CASH CAPITAL OF $3,500,000,
Which will be sufficient to duplicate lines to all or nearly all the paying points reached by the present monopoly.
The press of Telegraph Companies of the country have been consolidated into one huge monopoly, and are now earning over SIX MILLIONS OF DOLLARS per year, or over one hundred per cent. on the actual cost of their lines, their present capital having been watered over ONE THOUSAND per cent.
THE NATIONAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY have a recognition from the United States Government of the importance of their enterprise, with a grant of the most valuable franchises ever conferred upon a telegraph company. No competing line has ever had the right now granted by Congress to this company to construct and operate lines over every RAILROAD and MAIL ROUTE in the United states The position of this company dates from that of any company ever before organized. The question of the RIGHT OF WAY IS FOREVER SETTLED.
The stockholders of this company cannot be sold out or TRANSFERRED to any other company. The act of Congress under which this company has been organized, prohibits any transfer of the franchises granted.
CALLS---HOW TO BE MADE.
One per cent. of the Stock will be required on subscribing, and subsequent calls, not to exceed five per cent. per month, will be made by the Board of Directors, from time to time, as may be necessary, to supply funds to construct and equip the lines; but no calls will be made after the one per cent is paid, until the ENTIRE CAPITAL STOCK shall have been subscribed.
ACTUAL CAPITAL REQUIRED
The Company confidently believe that thirty-five per cent. of the Capital Stock will construct and fully equip
25,000 MILES OF WIRE,
Which will connect all the commercial cente and important places in the United States This opinion rests upon the most reliable estimates and responsible offers to construct and equip the lines.
The National Telegraph Company is organized under the Laws of the State of New York and franchises conferred by an act of Congress, approved July 24, 1866.

MEMPHIS APPEAL

CONDENSED DECISIONS OF THE SUPREME COURT.

Brownsville, June Term, 1868.

BY H. CLAY KING, ESQ.

No. 5.—Palmer vs. Waggener. From Memphis Law Court.

This was an action against the defendant, as administrator, for compensation for legal professional services rendered the intestate in the prosecution of an injunction suit in Arkansas. Plea, statute of limitations. Held: That the statute does not begin to run against the attorney until the termination of the services under the terms of the employment. Judgment affirmed.

No. 6.—Bartlett vs. Wilkerson and others, Sureties of Smith, Sheriff. From Shelby Circuit—three cases.

Facts: Smith, Sheriff, failed to return a summons from the Shelby Circuit Court. He also failed to return original attachment issued by a Justice of the Peace, returnable to the Circuit Court. He also failed to return an ancillary attachment issued by a Justice of the Peace, returnable to the Circuit. There was a motion in each case against the Sheriff for the penalty of $125 for failure to return the process; judgments had against the Sheriff, and sci fa. had against the sureties. Judgments were rendered against the sureties on return of the sci. fa. Executions issued thereon against the sureties, who filed their petitions in the Circuit Court, asking the executions to be quashed, and the judgments to be vacated and set aside because void on their face. The judgments against the Sheriff failed to show on their face that the writs had come to the Sheriff's hands more than twenty days before their return day. Held: 1. That the judgments are void for failure to recite on their face that the process had come to the hands of the Sheriff more than twenty days before the return day. 2. If judgments are void on their face, this Court will not, on reversal, remand to the inferior Court to correct, or for new trial. 3. If the judgment against the Sheriff is void, no valid judgment can be rendered against his sureties on sci fa, even if that proceeding was proper. 4 If a judgment is void, execution issued on it may be quashed on motion, petition, or certiorari. 5. The Court reversing a void judgment has no power, at a subsequent term, to vacate its own judgment on mere motion or petition, because the judgment is void on its face. The executions are quashed and the judgments permitted to stand, so far as this proceeding is concerned.

No. 7.—Chase, Administrator of Bradford, vs. Bostick. From Shelby Circuit.

Facts: Bradford contracted to deliver to Bostick a portable steam engine of the best material, on the Mississippi river. Bostick sued Bradford's administrator in an action, in the nature of an action on the case, for damages for breach of contract, in general terms. The plea was non-assumpsit. The charge of the Court was to the effect that if Bradford was guilty of any fraud in the making, or failure to execute the contract, exemplary damages might be given by the jury. The jury gave them.

Held: That exemplary damages are limited to actions of tort, unless the particular acts involving the exemplary damages are set out in the declaration.

No. 8.—Vandeville vs. Cash, Administrator of Bolton. From Shelby Circuit Court.

Action for value of personal property under an agreement to pay hire for the use, and to pay the value if lost or destroyed. Held; That under this unconditional contract, the bailee was an insurer, and liable for any loss by any cause.

No. 9.—Clark vs. Thomas.

This is an application to the Circuit Court by mandamus to compel a Justice of the Peace to issue an execution on a judgment before him, on which there appears this endorsement, signed by the plaintiff: "This is to be stayed eight months." Held: That this endorsement is too vague to be considered a contract between the parties to the judgment, to waive execution for eight months; but merely refers to the ordinary statutory. Execution ought to issue—the judgment not having been stayed.

No. 10.—Word vs Mollter.

Action of replevin for a horse. Plea, former adjudication. Word had sued Mollter in replevin before a Justice, and got the horse under his writ. Mollter dismissed that suit and restored the horse to the defendant. Held; That the judgment of dismissal is not such a judgment as will bar another suit.

No. 11.—Only vs. Dickinson & Fegan.

This is an action of replevin. Process was served on Fegan, but none on Dickinson. There was no appearance by the defendants. Judgment by default was taken against both defendants, waiving damages. Both defendants prosecute writ of error. Held; That the rule that in actions of debt and in tort, a joint judgment valid as to one and erroneous as to the other, will not be reversed in this case as to the one as to whom there is no error, does not apply to actions of replevin, as to that action. If the judgment is erroneous as to one and right as to the other, and both appeal, or bring error, the judgment will be reversed as to both. The judgment in this case is reversed as to both, and cause remanded for new trial.

GENERAL ITEMS.

—The Tortugas prisoners ordered to be released by Gen. Meade, were at the last sailing to leave for home on the next steamer.

—W. H. Paxton, Esq., of New Orleans, died Thursday morning in that city, where he has resided twenty years. He was a nephew and formerly law partner of Gov. McNutt, of Mississippi.

—Two white convicts escaped from the Baton Rouge penitentiary Friday night, by cutting out of their cells to the roof and descending the lightning rod.

—Levy Partridge, Cashier of the First National Bank of Seneca Falls, in a state of temporary insanity, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat at the Syracuse House, Syracuse, N. Y., on the 1st inst.

—E. P. Buell, a prominent manufacturer and politician of Hartford, Conn., committed suicide Saturday.

—The Cannelton (Ind.) Reporter says: "A young lady by the name of Robinet, whose parents reside in Oil Township, in this county, drowned herself and her illegitimate child in her father's well, on Friday, 22d ult."

—John O'Brien retired to an old board pile in Atlanta, on Saturday night last, with a phial of laudanum. The next morning the spirit and poison had left a cold corpus to mark the deed of self-destruction. O'Brien was an Irishman and a tailor by trade. Want of work led to the act.

—On Sunday night, the store of Martin & Co., at Madison Station, on the M. & C. R. R., was robbed of $1800 worth of goods, clothing and groceries. A negro named John Williams has been arrested on suspicion of being one of the burglars.

—An old man named Beack, residing at Decatur, was found dead near Harris' Station, on the Nashville and Decatur Railroad, on Friday last, with a whisky flask at his side. It is supposed he died from the effects of liquor.

—The New York World says: Nobody is hardly enough to claim civil capacity for Grant. Out of the army he has only been a bankrupt farmer, a taciturn tanner, and a hard drinker. His literary abilities were insufficient to secure him a copyist's stool in the office of the Prothonotary of St. Louis in 1854. His most exaggerating praisers dare not aver his instability to be less than his obtuseness. In politics he has always taken up with the minds that mastered him.

—Destructive fires are raging in northwestern Michigan, and along the south shore of Lake Superior.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, MEMPHIS, June 6, 1868.

Business generally has already assumed a summer garb, and in no one branch can this be seen better than by a visit to our banks. Outside a light demand for small bills of Exchange, there is very little doing. Rates remain the same as at our last.

Messrs. Murphy & Cash, having fitted up the building adjoining their old banking house, and formerly occupied by Larry Harmstad & Co., on the corner of Main and Madison streets, have removed, and are now, with the additional room secured, prepared to carry on all branches of their business upon an extended scale.

Gold opened in New York to-day at 139¾ and closed at 139¾. There is very little offering here, with but a small demand. Buying at 138½ to 139. Selling at 140.

City Scrip is quiet. We have heard of no large amounts upon the market for some days. Holders are not offering at less than 75c, which dealers are not disposed to pay. The buying rate is nominal at 72 to 73c, while checks against ledger balances are sold at 75 to 78c, as to amount wanted.

In County Warrants there is little doing. Brokers buy at 58 to 60c in limited amounts, and sell at 62 to 65c.

Police Scrip is firm, with enough upon the market to supply the demand. Buying at 84 to 85c. Selling at 88 to 90c.

City bonds are firm, at 51 to 52c, with active inquiry from speculators at 50c, but no sellers.

It is probable that no great amount of disappointment has been occasioned by the general inactivity of the spring and summer trade. It has been apparent for some time that no marked improvement would take place in advance of the ingathering of the new crops, and before the issue of the Presidential election. Hence business men generally are not taken by surprise. They looked for a certain degree of inactivity, and the only regret is that they were not disappointed. But the results would have been a great deal more disastrous if the mercantile community had been less sagacious. As matters now stand, says the New York Commercial Bulletin, they are in a position to ride over the difficulties occasioned by a limited demand for goods. Their obligations are narrowed down to an extent proportionate to the contraction of business, and, as a general thing there is very little indebtedness at the present time. Merchants and manufacturers have only a comparatively small amount of goods on hand, and business generally is limited to the supply of the considerably diminished demand for commodities for immediate consumption. That the summer trade will be marked by the dullness of the Winter and spring now nearly at its entire close. The unusually late and cold spring has both delayed and checked the promise of the ordinary summer activity. Business will succumb to the influences of hot weather and politics, and may be only expected to resume its sway when the doubts respecting the harvest and the issue of the Presidential election shall have been removed. In the meantime there is nothing in the immediate future to excite apprehension. The country is going through the precise ordeal that can alone dispel existing difficulties. Once more it is consuming less than it produces, and stands in a favorable position for resuming a new career of prosperity when new harvests, and the approaching settlement of our financial problems shall have imparted the substantial elements of wealth and confidence.

The Liverpool cotton market was dull at the opening to-day. Uplands, 11¼; Orleans, 11¼d. At noon it was quiet, with prices nominally unchanged. Sales, 6000 bales.

The New York market opened dull and nominal. Low Middlings, 29c; Middlings, 30½c; Orleans, 31c; Good Middlings, 32c. At noon there was no change, and at the close there was not enough doing to test the market. Uplands, nominally 30½. Sales, 250 bales. Week's sales, 8500. Week's receipts, 5000. Exports, 1303. Stock, 66,000. Week's receipts at all U. S. ports, 4500 bales.

Our market was quiet, with no sales upon which to base quotations. Holders ask 29c for Middlings, while buyers are not at all anxious to buy at 28c.
